

Do not let large corporations decide the privacy rules for phones. I do not wish to support the Banker's initiative to change the wonderful Current No Call Listing. Please do not support this large financial lobby group. Instead create more laws protecting fraudulent credit reporting by financial institutions. AT&T once billed me for a previous phone number bill that had been re-opened by a new customer and after refusing to pay for the other customer put me in a strong negative credit report. It takes them minutes to put it up and months to take it down?

Don't give them anymore power over legislation like the No Call List. Sparpen the focus on Credit reporting so that it does not descriminate and penalize people for errors in computer billing.

These issues are far more important than the political stunting around issues like Janet Jackson.

Please prosecute large corporations fully. Don't let them off any hooks.
